Cable Subscribers Angry as Fees Rise; Action Violates Franchise Agreement

by Elaine Skolnik

and Mary Lou Williamson

Angry cable television subscribers in Greenbelt and elsewhere in the county are questioning the recent action of Storer Cable Communications and Metrovision to raise rates. Storer holds the franchise in the northern part of Prince Georges County, while Metrovision provides service in the southern portion. The city is now reviewing Storer's increases in rates and other services to determine if there are violations of the city franchise to which the city can take action. Similarly, the county is concerned and is looking into possible action.

At the time the Greenbelt City Council awarded the franchise to Storer on January 14, 1982 a contractual agreement existed that Storer would notify the city in advance of any rate increase and that the city's approval would be required for such an increase. The franchise further guaranteed that Storer would not increase its rate for four years from the date of the first service and for not less than two years for all subscribers.

In a recent letter to subscribers, explaining the increase, which will go into effect October 1, Storer noted, "Our operating costs and the cost to purchase the programming we provide to our subscribers have risen dramatically." However, no mention was made in the letter of what appears to be a major reason for the rate increase - the recent June 18, 1984 decision by the United States Supreme Court and rulings by the Federal Communications Commission in November 1983 and July 25, 1984.

In commenting on these decisions, Warren C. Zwicky, vice president and Washington Counsel for Storer Communications Inc. wrote, "The net effect of these rulings is that the FCC has validly preempted all local regulation of non-basic services and rates. Despite any franchise provisions to the contrary, local franchisors are preempted from regulating non-basic services and may not prevent cable operators from raising non-basic rates, changing non-basic services or rearranging tiers of service."

According to a spokesperson for the County Cable Commission, "The FCC has ruled that the competitive marketplace, rather than local government, be allowed to determine the proper level of subscription rates and program lineup offered by the system operator."

The only channels that will be subject to local rate regulation are those in the Basic service tier (formerly Universal), which contains all local broadcast channels that the FCC required to be carried - VHF and UHF - and the local access channels.

Changes

The present Universal Service, for which there is no monthly charge, will be called the Basic Service. This will continue to be a free service providing all of the local television channels plus the access and local origination channels. It will be available to everyone.

The present Basic Service, will be called the Satellite Service, so-called because the additional channels are brought in by satellite. The monthly charge has been increased 58% from $6.95 to $10.95 and will provide all the other non-pay services plus additional satellite services.

In addition to raising the rate for the Satellite service, Storer changed rates for ancillary services. Additional outlets have been raised from $2.92 to $4.75, initial installation from $14.95 to $24.95, additional trips charge from $9.95 to $14.95, change of service from no charge to $10 and remote control from no charge to $3.00. Duplicate pay channels for multi-sets in the home have been reduced from $3.50 to $3.00.

Council Meeting

Winfield Kelly, vice president of Storer, was present at Monday night's council meeting to answer questions. He acknowledged that Storer is indeed ignoring contract guarantees it made at the time a franchise was successfully sought from the city. "I won't tell you it's good business," said Kelly; "it's an economic necessity." He painted an industry-wide picture of serious problems, and told of more extreme losses in other cities. Storer, he said, had found itself in "untenable circumstances because we did not anticipate cost increases in installation and programming. A year ago," recalled Kelly, on his advice, Storer "decided to go ahead and build the system as promised, but (we) would get a rate increase to support it."

"Very unfair," Greenbelt cable subscriber Eunice Coxon said of the increase. She has had cable service for only a few months.

"Anarchy," charged Al Herling of the wholesale renigging on contracts which he considers to be sacred. "I am non-plussed by the 58% rate increase . . . They only deregulated where the consumer might benefit."

City council members and staff asked the pertinent questions: Can the increase be stopped? Will

Boy Scouts to Hold Membership Drive

by Jack Foster

Boy Scout Troop 1746, sponsored by St. Hugh's Catholic Church, and Cub Scout Pack 202, sponsored by Greenbelt Community Church, will hold their annual fall membership drive at the gym of St. Hugh's parochial school from 7 until 9 p.m. on Thursday, September 20.

Representatives from both of these Scouting organizations will be present to explain the programs to interested parents and boys.

If a boy is in the second grade or has reached the age of seven, he is eligible to become a Tiger Cub. The Tiger Cub program is a one-on-one adult boy program that is only very loosely connected to a Cub Scout Pack. This is a new program which was initiated by the Boy Scouts of America in the past two years. Complete information can be obtained from the Cub Scout representative.

The boys who have reached the third grade or eight years of age are eligible to join Cub Scouts. This is a uniformed scouting program that has an organized group program with adult leadership. Pack 202 is a very active organization whose activities are many and varied. Some of the adult leadership will be glad to discuss their program with both parents and sons.

Those boys who have completed the fifth grade or have reached the age of eleven are qualified to join the Boy Scouts. It is not necessary that the boy has previously belonged to the preceding organizations. The Boy Scouts are a uniformed and organized unit of boys who are self governed but have close adult supervision. The Boy Scout objective is to mold boys into self-sufficient and responsible adults. Their activities are oriented toward outdoor living with further concentrations on citizenship and respect for authority. Seventy-five years of history proves a successful program. This year is the diamond jubilee of the Boy Scouts.

the guarantees and contracts be honored? Kelly's answers, as expected, were "no." Only on one point did he promise to go back to Storer for an answer. Councilman Ed Putens pointedly suggested that a sizeable number of subscribers, faced with such a large increase, would either give up the service altogether or opt for the Basic Service - in either case, Storer would receive nothing. Putens recommended a gradual or staged increase. Kelly promised consideration of the idea.

City solicitor Emmett Nanna reported talking with FCC officials, who confirmed the points in Zwicky's letter. The "primary thrust of court and FCC holdings," said Nanna, "are that any contracts at the county, state or local level, where they extend beyond the Basic Service are 'ultra vires.'" In other words, the federal government has pre-empted that field and has said, "Let the law of the market place set the rates," he explained. In effect the FCC is saying that "cable is a luxury," said Nanna. "If you can't afford it, don't buy it."

Giese agreed that resorting now to the courts on the basis of broken promises is "not expected to bear any fruit. The court and FCC have pulled the contracts out from under us."

One apparent redress remaining is legislation currently before the House of Representatives

Butterflies Are Free

by Eileen Peterson

As "Butterflies are Free" continues this weekend at the Utopia Theater, plans call for Friday evening's performance to be signed for the hearing-impaired, announces Director Robert Rotenberry.

The Leonard Gershe comedy about a blind man and his zany, actress neighbor will be interpreted by Kathy Staab, a teacher at the Maryland School for the Deaf. Those interested in her interpreting should sit to the right facing the stage.

"Butterflies" is set in a New York apartment in 1969. Don Baker (played by Ray Turner of Brae Brooke Village) is adjusting to a new apartment and life without Mother (Marie Tournant of Olivewood Court) when he meets his neighbor, Jill Tanner (Lori Hopson Paul). Ralph Austin (played by Director Rotenberry) complicates an already confused situation.

This is the first of five plays being presented in the 1984-85 Greenbelt Cultural Arts Center season by the Greenbelt Players. "Butterflies" will run every Friday and Saturday evening at 8 p.m. through September 29, with a Sunday matinee on September 23 at 2:30 p.m.

Production staff for the play is led by Stage Manager Kelly Holl. Tom Schreiber designed the sets which were constructed by James Boyle, Bill Merchant and Bill Shields.

Lighting technician is Sherrie Specht; props were organized by Deborah Kleinberg and Jeff Beyrent. Marie Tournant helped with publicity.

Subscription applications for the 5-for-the-price-of-4 season tickets can be secured by calling 441-8770 to leave a name and phone number or at the box office. Greenbelt Cultural Arts Center members receive an additional discount, and membership forms are available by phone request and at the theater.

City Waives Fees For Group Picnic

The Greenbelt city council has agreed to waive the normal user fee for the Lakewood Picnic, which will be held at the city's picnic area adjacent to the SHL Recreation Center, this Saturday, Sept. 15. The one-time-only waiver, council said, should be considered a gesture of help to the Lakewood residents who are attempting to reorganize a neighborhood civic association which has been defunct for many years. At the same time council made it clear that the group should expect next time to pay the standard fees charged similar Greenbelt civic groups. Based on the group's original request fees waived are a $5 per hour charge for use of the kitchen (9 a.m. to 9 p.m.) and $3.35 per hour to employ a staff person to open the building outside of normal hours (9 a.m. to 1 p.m.). In turn the organizers Anna and Tony Pisano agreed to shorten by four hours the group's expected use of the facility (11 a.m. to 7 p.m.).

- HB 4103. The bill, which is still pending, was a compromise between the National Cable TV Association and the National League of Cities. The cable association dropped its support of the bill, Giese noted, "when they found they had access to the cookie jar without the legislation." Council voted unanimously to support both the House and Senate versions of the bill and to urge its passage.

An Open Letter on Cable TV Rate Increases

On January 14, 1982, Storer Cable Communications entered into a franchise agreement with the city, which it actively sought, in which it agreed to notify the city in advance and seek city approval of rate increases. It further guaranteed that it would not increase its rate for four years from date of first service and for not less than two years for all subscribers.

Subsequently, U. S. Supreme Court decisions and rulings of the Federal Communication Commission (FCC) have pre-empted the city's right to regulate rates charged by a franchised cable television enterprise except for the rates charged for its basic service. Accordingly, Storer has advised its Greenbelt customers that it will increase its rates for its most frequently subscribed service by 58%, and has not sought the city's approval.

Most customers are not aware that Storer must offer a basic service for which there is no monthly subscriber fee charged at present. The basic service offers all stations which must be carried as required by the FCC including all local area television stations and designated public access channels. Extra cost movie channels or distant stations are not offered as part of the basic service.

The city has been actively following the status of the federal legislation to define the authority of local governments in regulating cable TV. After extensive negotiation a compromise bill known as HR-4103 was agreed to by the National League of Cities (NLC) and the cable TV industry. However, the cable TV industry withdrew its support after the favorable court and FCC rulings. The bill, however, is still pending before Congress.

The NLC also is seeking court review of the recent FCC decision.

The city is reviewing the actions of Storer to determine if there are violations of the city franchise agreement which it can enforce. In the event that the city cannot take action, cable subscribers are advised that actions which can be taken other than paying the increased rates are available to them:

1. Cancelling service.
2. Downgrading service to the basic service.
3. Writing your Congressman and Senators concerning the regulation of the cable TV industry and the position they should take on the passage of HR-4103.

victim's leg. The suspect then fled on foot. The victim was taken to Prince Georges General Hospital; at last report, he was in good condition and expected to be released shortly. The suspect was described as a black male, about 5'10", very thin (about 140 lbs), with a long narrow face, medium dark complexion and a short bush haircut.

A breaking and entering occurred on Lakeside Dr. during the night of Sept. 8 while the residents were gone. The house was ransacked and money taken. According to the police, one neighbor reported that he had heard something which sounded like a break-in about 12:30 a.m. (Sept. 9) but had dismissed the sound and not reported it to the police.

A male juvenile was arrested and charged with robbery last week in a case which is expected to close at least four cases of auto theft and break-ins into autos in the Mandan Road area. The juvenile is a resident of the District of Columbia.

In another major arrest, the Prince Georges County Police arrested five persons when they recovered a 1981 Buick Riviera stolen from the 7800 block of Hanover Pkwy.

A breaking and entering occurred in the early hours of Aug. 31 on Northway while the residents were asleep. The crime which occurred between 2 and 6:30 a.m., was not discovered until the residents got up. Money was taken.

On the previous night an attempted breaking and entering took place in the 78 court of Ridge Rd. when someone pried plywood off a casement window and apparently tried to get in.

A breaking and entering was also reported in the 5900 block of Cherrywood Lane at about 3:30 a.m. on Sept. 2.

During the Labor Day Festival, the Greenbelt Police Department operated an Ident-A-Kid program which provides parents with a set of their child's fingerprints for use if the child is ever lost or missing. During the weekend, 676 children were fingerprinted; the youngest was three months old.

The Steering Committee of the Labor Day Festival offers its grateful thanks to the following businesses and individuals for their generous donations. Without their help, the Festival would not be able to maintain the numerous events it sponsors each year.

CONSIDERING A CHANGE IN RESIDENCE?

There are three key elements to consider:

- Your needs: things you positively have to have.
- Your wants: things you'd like to have, but don't necessarily need.
- Your qualifications:
 - 1) Your initial investment (cash to move in)
 - 2) Your total income (gross yearly income)
 - 3) Your debt service (total indebtedness)

I would like the opportunity to discuss with you how we can combine these three factors to assist you and your family in achieving your housing goals both within Greenbelt and the metropolitan area - of course with no obligation.

Greenbelt Consumer Cooperative Member News

Up to now the Greenbelt Co-op has been generously keeping the record of individual patronage on their computer in Savage. However, we have to keep our own records, so we are buying our own computer. Spear, Inc. of 109 Ridge Rd. in Greenbelt will be supplying us with an IBM XT Computer, plus related hardware and software. For a little over eleven thousand dollars, Robert and Eric Spear will be doing the work.

Please remember to give your membership number to the cashier every time you buy something at the Co-op. Profits will be returned to the members in proportion to their patronage.
